

Debra Moffitt

I am a Maryland native, growing up near the scenic creeks of eastern Baltimore County. I enjoy capturing the variety of landscapes across my home state, from the Bay marshes and marinas to the rugged landscapes of the Allegany Mountains, from the woodlands and historic mill towns near my current residence to the lively urban centers of the mid-Atlantic region.

I am a self-taught plein air painter, participating in a variety of juried shows and winning several awards in local and regional competitions. My intent is to capture the essence of the place and the moment, whether it be an atmosphere of serenity, nostalgia, history, or majesty, whether an intimate scene or a grand vista. The interplay of light and shadow over forms captures my attention and imagination, and my hope is to communicate that vision and what it means to me through the joy of painting.
