

Tom Ritchie

Tom Ritchie is a Baltimore plein air painter. In his intimate landscapes he strives to capture a poetic essence and a sense of place from his subject matter. His use of bold brushwork and palette knife brings the painting surface to life and asks the viewer to return for a second look. Like most artists, Ritchie continues to be a student of his passion for painting, reaching for a higher level of excellence, while discovering and expressing his own voice.

